Garinko-go II (Hokkaido heritage attraction)
 Drift ice tourism has turned a winter plague from the Sea of Okhotsk into a real blessing. Mombetsu City named the icebreaker (originally designed for oil development in Alaska) Garinko-go. With its brilliant red body and two Archimedean screws, it was designated a Hokkaido heritage attraction in November, 2004.

The Hokkaido Heritage
 The Hokkaido heritage is the treasure of all Hokkaido residents, the tangible and intangible assets to be passed on to the next generation. Those assets were selected by Hokkaido people from such categories as the abundant natural surroundings of Hokkaido, the history and culture of Hokkaido people, local life styles, and industries.

Sea Ice Observation Tower your route to a 7.5-meter-deep undersea world! All Seasons

The Okhotsk Tower, rising about 1 km offshore amid the splendor of the Sea of Okhotsk, is the ultimate in underwater observation. It is the world's first sea ice underwater observation tower: you can view ice floes from 38.5 m. above the water, and from the ocean bottom, 7.5 m. deep, and observe the various habits that marine creatures display throughout the year.

Open at night in summer : Spotted fish are bright in the dark sea, creating a fantastic atmosphere. Enjoy to its fullest the beauty that makes you forget the passage of time.

Fishing? Leave your tackle at home! Summer

How about fishing on the Garinko-go? Equipment rental, bait, refrigerated fish delivery – flatfish fishing can be easily enjoyed!
